STAT

Dear [redacted]:

STAT

I have as you know just returned from a most interesting and extensive trip to England, Cairo, Cyprus, Etc.

[redacted], who you will also recall was at one time to become your deputy, is in charge of the project at [redacted] and will on or about 1 August become Chief of the Mediterranean Bureau. He is confronted with the movement of the station from Cairo to Cyprus and as events are now shaping up, we might have to move and set up on a temporary basis.

STAT

[redacted] problem in moving from Cairo to Cyprus is a much more complicated one than yours. However, he suggested and I concurred that he might benefit greatly from your experience in moving to Menlo Park. I would appreciate very much if you would prepare a paper on lessons learned during your move which would be suitable for me to transmit to [redacted] as written for whatever it may be worth to him.
